

No. 9 · you just play it · for Ornette Coleman

The end result of music is, you just play it.

— Ornette Coleman

one

the end result of play it the end play end result play it the end result of music is you just play the end it the result of you just the result of music is you it the end result of just the you the play it the end result it the of music is you play the end of music is you just it the result of play music is result play it the end result of music just music is you it music is just play it the end of music is just result music it the end of is the you just play end music is it the result of the end is you just it of music you of is you just it the result music you just it two it play just you is music of it play just you is the it play just you is music of result end the it is music of result end the it play just you is music of result end the it play you is end the it play just you is result end the just you is of end the it just you is music end the it play just you is music of result end it play you is music of end the it play just you music of it play just you is music of result end the it play just is music result end it play you is music result the it just you is music of result end the it play just you is music of result the it play just you is the it just result end it play is music of end it play just you is of the it just you is of just you is music of result end the it play just of end the it music of play just you is music of end the it play just you result play just you is music